Fund Commentary

During the month of March 2016, the benchmark KSE-100 gained 5.64% to close at 33,139 levels. Average daily trading volume also improved by 4% MoM to 141mn shares. The relief rally in the market was primarily driven by recovery in the Oil & Gas sector on the back of rebound in international oil prices and bullish sentiment in Cement sector owing to higher industry dispatches and growth in sector profitability.

On the money market front, yields are expected to remain stable as the SBP is expected to keep the discount rate unchanged in its next Monetary Policy to be announced in April, 2016.
