Fund Commentary

The KMI-30 index posted a decline of 11.94% during the month of August, 2017. The market benchmark KSE-100 witnessed a sharp decline of 10.44% which was the worst monthly decline for the index since March, 2015. Political situation in the aftermath of the disqualification of Prime Minister, concerns over PKR depreciation and widening current account deficit continued to hurt market sentiment. Furthermore, US President's Afghan Policy statement and a potentially significant penalty on HBL to the tune of USD 630 million caused panic among investors.

On the Money Market front, market yields remained stable.
